INTERIM OVERSEAS DIFFERENTIAL

STAT

1. Under the authority of the CIA Act of 1949, I have established a 9.6 percent Interim Overseas Differential, effective 12 July 1981, for certain overseas employees.

2. This differential was developed to recognize the unique nature and special demands which overseas service places on Agency personnel and to serve as an incentive for Agency employees to seek and remain in overseas positions with the Agency. Most full-time staff and contract employees serving overseas are eligible for this new benefit. This entitlement is subject to the computations that limit by law an employee's pay to $50,112.50 per annum.

3. For additional information on this subject, employees are encouraged to contact their personnel officers.
